

DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE
AIR UNIVERSITY (AETC)

Lt Col Bridget M. McNamara
Commander, 21st Student Squadron
225 Chennault Circle
Maxwell AFB AL 36112-6426

ACSC Class of 2016:

Congratulations on your selection to attend Air Command and Staff College, and welcome to our ACSC family! As you look forward to this upcoming endeavor, you should anticipate a fantastic year that will challenge you personally, professionally, and academically. There's no doubt that you will leave here better prepared for the next stage of your career!

One of the greatest opportunities at ACSC comes from the diversity of your class. It will consist of approximately 500 officers and civilians from every branch of service, every specialty, and almost 70 different nations. Not only will you learn from one another, but you will also form enduring friendships.

Prior to your arrival, I recommend you explore the ACSC website and the Maxwell Air Force Base webpage. There you will find helpful information and resources about ACSC itself, as well as the base and the surrounding community. Also, please feel free to check out the ACSC Spouses' Group webpage (www.acscspouses.com), since there are many family-friendly events and activities in which to get involved.

Should you need additional information or assistance, please feel free to call us at (334) 953-2226, or 953-0415 (DSN 493). You can also send email to acsc.21stus@maxwell.af.mil. We are ready to help you make this transition a smooth one. Again, congratulations, and I look forward to serving with you!

Sincerely

//Signed//
BRIDGET M. MCNAMARA, Lt Col, USAF
Commander